The University Interscholastic League ...

Purpose

The purpose of the UIL is to organize and properly supervise contests that prepare students for later success in life. It aims to provide healthy, character building, educational activities carried out under rules providing for good sportsmanship and fair play for all participants.

Sensible organized competition under proper controls has demonstrated its value and has furnished inspiration to talented students for many years. Roy Bedichek, UIL Director from 1921–1948, once said, "School and community opinion should be so conditioned that every interschool contest dramatizes not only the reign of law but the reign of a higher law giving the Spirit of the rules precedence over the Letter, thus establishing a jurisdiction in which Conscience is the court of final appeal, empowered to confer the ultimate and most highly valued awards." The UIL does not provide a contest for every student, but does fill the need for those with the physical and intellectual capacity to excel in activities beyond the classroom. The UIL has the active support of school administrators, teachers, and citizens across Texas.

Services

The UIL is a non-profit service organization that provides a wide variety of activities and programs. The UIL:

- Provides students with educational experiences through competition.
- Promotes good sportsmanship and cooperation among member schools.
- Publishes a monthly newspaper called The Leaguer, mailed to all member schools, UIL adjudicators and officials, and interested Texas news media.
- Works closely with associations to provide better officiating and adjudication for UIL contests.
- Sponsors regional conferences and clinics for athletic, music, drama, student press, and academic contests.
- Provides materials to member schools for use in UIL activities.
- Seeks to safeguard the health and welfare of students by requiring physical examinations for participation in athletics.
- Sponsors district, regional, and state tournaments or meets in athletic, music, drama, journalism, and academic contests.
- Provides drama teachers with an extensive Drama Loan Library of more than 26,000 plays.
- Sponsors the Interscholastic League Press Conference, an organization dedicated to the development of a responsible, mature, student press.
- Administers the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation, a scholarship program for academic state competitors.
- Sponsors the UIL – Southwestern Bell Sponsor Excellence Award, honoring outstanding UIL program sponsors, coaches and directors.

History

The University Interscholastic League was created by The University of Texas at Austin to provide leadership and guidance to public school debate and athletic teachers. In 1909, with the approval of the Board of Regents, Dr. S.E. Mezes, president of the University of Texas, organized and formed the Extension Bureau. He also appointed Professor Charles Ramsdell to investigate the need for a high school athletic organization. After talking with public school officials, Professor Ramsdell suggested organizing an Interscholastic Athletic Association. The proposal was approved and the UIL's two parent organizations - the Debate League of Texas and the Interscholastic Athletic Association - became operational.

In 1913, the Debating League and Athletic Association merged to form the University Interscholastic League, which was centered in the Bureau of Public School Services, then a part of The University of Texas Extension Division. Today, the UIL operates under the jurisdiction of the Vice-President for Administration at the University of Texas at Austin.

The UIL has grown into the largest interschool organization of its kind in the world. The voluntary membership, non-profit organization exists to provide educational extracurricular academic, athletic, and music contests. The initials "UIL" have come to represent quality educational competition administered by school people on an amateur and equitable basis.

Making a world of difference ...

The largest

One out of every two high school seniors participates in a UIL contest prior to graduation.

Each year, almost two million students in grades two through twelve participate in one or more of the 36 literary and academic, five major music, and twelve athletic contest areas. Not only is the UIL the oldest state high school association of its kind in the world, it currently serves a larger geographic area, schedules a greater variety of contests, holds more meets, and enjoys a greater school membership than any similar organization in existence.

Under UIL direction, Texas fields more high school baseball, football, volleyball, basketball, and track teams than any other state.

The UIL also conducts the largest competitive drama program in the world and sponsors the Interscholastic League Press Conference, the nation's largest state high school journalism association.

Best of all, participation in extracurricular activities is an educational bargain. In virtually every case, UIL activities account for less than one percent of each member school's budget. This includes equipment, supplies, transportation, coaches salaries and a portion of the utility bills. Fifty percent of the students at one percent of the budget! It is the best bargain in public education today.

The finest

The UIL's Prescribed Music List is used by more than 30 states as well as seven foreign nations.

In addition, its calculator applications and number sense contests have been studied and emulated worldwide, just as virtually every UIL contest has been used as the standard by which excellence is judged. While many states provide only athletic competition, the UIL offers the most comprehensive literary and academic program in the nation. Contests range from current issues and events to poetry interpretation, from headline writing to number sense. And each year, outside groups ask the UIL to sponsor their contests, so they may take advantage of UIL structure and guidance.

Because the UIL has maintained a close relationship with The University of Texas at Austin and other host colleges and universities, public schools have enjoyed the expertise of many of the nation's finest educators, who serve as contest directors and judges. Also, public schools have access to outstanding classroom and athletic facilities at nominal costs.

Finally, the UIL developed and administers the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation. Since its inception in 1954, TILF has awarded more than $14 million in college scholarships to approximately 12,000 UIL State academic meet participants. The TILF is a program unique to Texas and the UIL. See page five for a list of donors.

The strongest

Rules are made by school people, who best understand the nature of educational competition.

Contests could not exist without rules. And UIL rules are adopted and altered by public school administrators, whose responsibility is to the overall educational program of the local school district rather than individual contests. The superintendent ensures that contests remain strictly amateur and educational.

The purpose of UIL contests is to provide healthful, character-building experiences that teach lessons in sportsmanship, teamwork and individual responsibility. Participation is its own reward. Students learn humility in victory, grace in defeat.

Administrators actively seek input from coaches, teachers, contest sponsors, educational association officials, school board members, parents and the public before voting in a democratic manner for the rules by which all students compete. Once adopted, rules are monitored closely by administrators. It is good to remember that school people are more aware of societal changes than the average person because they deal with students on a daily basis - and no group more accurately reflects changes in society than do teenagers.

The strength of the UIL is its commitment to grass roots control; by school officials, whose sole concern is the development of the total student. The educational competitions and activities facilitated by the UIL are a crucial part of that development.

Academics

The University Interscholastic League offers the most comprehensive academic competitive program in the nation. It offers more types of competition than any other UIL Division, with 36 individual activities. More than a half million students participate in UIL academic contests.

These activities complement the academic curriculum. They are designed to motivate students as they acquire knowledge, to challenge students to confront important issues, and to provide students with opportunities to demonstrate mastery of specific skills. They are offered at the elementary, junior high and high school level. Many primary schools use their activities as accelerated programs for high achievers.

The UIL provides study packets for each activity, handbooks developed by experts in respective fields, instructional videotapes and conferences which offer enrichment and instruction. The journey to state competition introduces contestants to the campuses of some 18 colleges and universities statewide through district and regional contests.

The League's One-Act Play competition is the largest play production contest or play festival in the world. This activity is supported by over 200 college and university faculty serving as critic judges, 50 colleges and universities providing site facilities and 150 school administrators providing facilities and serving as contest managers. The One-Act Play competition is an integral component of the educational theatre curriculum, and is considered by historians to be the foundation of the educational and community theatre programs in Texas.

Also under the auspices of the UIL is the Interscholastic League Press Conference, an association of junior high and high school newspaper and yearbook staffs. One of the largest state high school press associations, ILPC coordinates summer workshops, a spring convention and numerous special-interest seminars.

Athletics

The UIL Athletic Division is based on the premise that students are students first, and athletic participation is a privilege. In addition to learning teamwork and group responsibility, these students obtain skills essential for strong citizenship and leadership. Those students participating in athletics tend to make better grades than students who are not participating in any other school activity.

This Division is the largest within the UIL in terms of attendance. Its 22 activities include over a million participants at the junior high and high school levels in the state.

The Athletic Division also draws the majority of the UIL's media coverage. Football is currently broadcast over network television in all 19 Texas media markets, as well as a delayed broadcast on Fox Sports Net Southwest. Boys' basketball and baseball are very likely to follow. These three activities are also carried on statewide radio, along with girls' basketball, volleyball, soccer, and track & field. The remaining athletic activities often receive radio coverage at the local level.

Music

The UIL Music Division is the envy of the nation. Its purpose is to provide statewide music competitions that enhance the many roles music plays in our society. It encompasses 10 activities and includes half a million participants in junior high and high school. Because of the department's first class reputation, music activities often receive media coverage.

The UIL's Music competitions are unique among League activities, inasmuch as they do not determine a state champion in most contests. Student musicians who participate in these contests are critiqued and rated against an accepted set of performance standards, rather than in "head to head" competition. Adjudication is performed by professional musicians and music educators who are recognized throughout the nation for their musical expertise.

The Music Division also produces and distributes The Prescribed Music List. This document, which specifies the graded repertoire used for all music contests in Texas, is developed and continuously refined by the UIL. It is also used by more than 30 other states and seven foreign nations as a guide for music competition.

$14.2 million

■ That's how much the Texas Interscholastic League Foundation has given since 1954 to approximately 12,230 Texas high school students who have competed in the UIL's state academic meet. This year alone, the TILF is awarding more than $1,075,000 in scholarships to 629 students.

■ The UIL administration, the UIL member schools' administrators, coaches, sponsors, directors and especially the students and their parents say THANK YOU to all the donors to this program. The TILF has over $5 MILLION in endowed funds and receives direct scholarship grants each year for more than $700,000 from foundations throughout the state. These grants have proven decisive in many student's educational careers. Many students would not or could not have attended the college or university of their choice without the financial assistance TILF provides.

The University Interscholastic League is proud to announce the 2000 UIL-Southwestern Bell Sponsor Excellence Award winners, which for the first time, include a set of co-winners.

The 16 winners were selected by a panel of judges in the areas of music, athletics, and academics from almost 100 nominations submitted by school principals and superintendents from across the state.

The award, now in its tenth year, was created to identify and recognize outstanding sponsors who enable students to develop and refine their extracurricular talents to the highest degree possible within the educational system.

"The benefits of interscholastic competition and student performance are only possible through the hard work and dedication of sponsors, coaches and directors like these," said UIL Director Bill Farney. "On behalf of the UIL, I commend these outstanding educators."

Each winner will receive $1000 and a symbolic keepsake from Southwestern Bell in recognition of their outstanding achievements in the pursuit of educational excellence through interscholastic competition. Southwestern Bell joins the UIL in its efforts to strengthen and promote the role of extracurricular activities in Texas. The quality of the Sponsor Excellence Award, along with all other UIL programs is enhanced through the continued support of Southwestern Bell.

The UIL-Southwestern Bell Sponsor Excellence Award recipients for 2000 are as follows:

2000-2001 Winners

•Todd Baker, Clarendon High School.

Baker has been a sponsor of marching band, concert band, and solo & ensemble for ten years. During his seven years at Clarendon, the band program has grown three-fold to include over half the student population at Clarendon High School. Under his direction, the Bronco Band placed third at the 1999 UIL Area Marching Band Contest, and has received numerous Sweepstakes trophies and Superior ratings at UIL competitions.

Mr. Baker's success can be attributed to his philosophy that "every student grows, the program grows, and more success is achieved as a result of winning the competition in our band hall—not by beating other bands."

•Roxanna Calley, La Grange High School.

Calley has sponsored UIL literary events for over thirty years, the past sixteen at La Grange High school. Her students have placed and won at district, region and state in Spelling, Journalism, Ready Writing, and Literary Criticism. Mrs. Calley has been committed to the idea that academic competition is the best way to motivate her students ever since she began coaching literary events for eighth graders in 1968.

"In addition to academic accomplishments are the accomplishments of seeing students respond to success with a heightened sense of intellectualism," said Calley. "I have sought out every opportunity to maximize the learning possibilities inherent in UIL practice and competition."

•Jeanell Cole, Bridgeport High School.

Cole has been a sponsor of UIL Number Sense for fifteen years and UIL Calculator and Mathematics for nine each. Under her direction, Bridgeport High School has won the 3A UIL Academic State Championship five of the last six years, sweeping all three math events three of those years. During that time, students under her instruction have won 28 individual medals at the State level.

"My hope is that I have given my students the direction and the resources to become successful in UIL, the classroom, and life," said Cole. "I want to teach them to be proud of their best effort, and to learn from their experiences in everything they attempt in life."

•Mary Ann Failla, Sugar Land Dulles High School.

Failla has sponsored UIL Accounting and other academic contests for thirty years. Her students have won numerous district and regional titles over the years, and have participated in and placed at the state Accounting contest seven times. In 1998, under Failla's sponsorship, her Accounting team took home second place at the UIL Academic State Meet. In addition to being a UIL sponsor, Mrs. Failla also serves as department chair for the Dulles High School Business Department.

"I have always wanted my students to be the best they can be and the UIL competition has been their vehicle for success," said Failla. "Their journey in studying for and participating in the competition has provided these young people with a foundation for success that will remain with them for the rest of their lives."

•Jan Garverick, San Antonio MacArthur High School.

Garverick, who is one of the first ever co-winners of the award, has sponsored UIL orchestra and solo & ensemble competitions for twenty-one years, seventeen of which have been at MacArthur High School. Since 1988, orchestras under her direction have received twelve consecutive Sweepstakes awards at UIL contests. Garverick began the first middle school orchestra program in North East ISD, and has turned the program into one that is admired by many. For approximately fifteen years, she has been an active member of Texas Music Adjudicators Association, and has served as a UIL judge at many music competitions throughout the state.

"Our students become better at life skills through participating in UIL. They learn to make decisions, accept victory or defeat, work hard, and never give up," said Garverick. "Competition must exist in the high school scheme of learning and development of our educational mission."

Jones has sponsored UIL One-Act Play and prose & poetry events for thirty-seven years, the past thirty-three at Robert E. Lee High School. She has organized and hosted a UIL Academic Prep Meet for the last 20 years, and a UIL One-Act Play workshop for the last 15 years which involve up to 58 schools combined. Under her sponsorship, Robert E. Lee High School has been District Academic Champion or District runner-up for the last 32 years. Jones' One-Act Play has ranked first in the District for 28 out of 33 years.

"I strongly support academic competition and athletic competition as part of a school's basic educational system," said Jones. "I feel that young people are able to grow in the areas of self-discipline, self-confidence, higher level thinking skills, problem solving, goal setting and teamwork."

•Louis Kelley, Lubbock Estacado High School.

Kelley has coached football for 38 years in Lubbock, 26 of them at Estacado High School. His overall coaching record is 233-95-8; he has been named City Coach of the year 13 times, and was inducted into the Texas High School Coaches Association Hall of Honor in 1997. His football teams have been district champions 14 times and 130 former players have played in the college ranks, with 9 of those going on to play professional football.

"Being a good competitor and being a good student go hand-in-hand," said Kelley. "We 'never give up on a kid' in providing opportunities for him or her to be good competitors—whether in the classroom or in athletic activities."

•Pamela Mercer-McWilliams, Longview High School.

Mercer-McWilliams has sponsored UIL One-Act Play, poetry & prose, and other speech events at Longview High School for 33 years, and has been a UIL Academic Coordinator for 28. Her One-Act Play has won district a total of 21 years, and in 1997 received second runner-up honors at State. Mercer-McWilliams was instrumental in establishing a UIL program at the middle school level in Longview, and has organized pep rallies to recognize UIL participants.

"As UIL sponsors, we have a tremendous power and added responsibilities, as well as opportunities, to influence the dreams of our young people," Mercer-McWilliams said. "Through competition, I want my students to gain knowledge, enhance their characters, build confidence, improve their lives, and perhaps come back to school a more productive person."

•Erminie Barbara Minard, Sugar Land Hightower High School.

Minard has sponsored UIL math and science events for over 20 years, and has taken her students to State in every area she has coached. Minard has established two successful UIL programs at two brand new 5A high schools in Fort Bend ISD, and in 1995 and 1996, her students won Sweepstakes at State in Conference 5A. For Minard, dedication to UIL and her students runs in the family—her mother Erminie C. Minard is a former Sponsor Excellence Award winner.

"It is my belief that all students can learn and all can improve," Minard said. "Some of the most satisfying achievements have been not in academics, but in the area of personal growth and maturity."

•Roy Murrell, Stafford High School.

Murrell has been a sponsor of UIL spelling & vocabulary and other literary events for over 20 years, and an Academic Coordinator for 18. He has coached 19 district champions, and had several students advance to regional and state competitions. During his 17 years at Stafford High School, he has been instrumental in the promotion of UIL competition and has written several course guidelines for the district.

"I am humbled to have touched the lives of my students," Murrell said. "What they don't know is how greatly they have touched mine."

•Michael Petriski, Palacios High School.

Petriski has been a sponsor of the choral music program for 22 years, and his dedication has paid off. Under his direction, his choirs have won five consecutive Sweepstakes trophies, and his show choir has earned a Superior rating for five consecutive years at UIL Regional Solo & Ensemble contests. His Palacios High School choir has been selected to perform the national anthem at Houston Astros baseball games for three consecutive years, and has also released a holiday music CD.

"The sense of belonging to an organization that works for the common goal creates bonding among sponsors and students in ways that cannot be measured in ratings or trophies," Petriski said. "The lessons learned in teamwork and responsibility for the individual and the group are paramount to succeeding in society today."

•Marsha Porter, Conroe High School.

Porter has been Head Girls' Basketball Coach at Conroe High School since 1969. During her tenure, the girls track program that she helped establish won State three of the five years she coached it, with three of her relay teams setting new national records in 1975. As Head Girls' Basketball Coach her record has been 734-200, and she has racked up 16 District Championship Titles. Porter has been named the Houston Chronicle's Coach of the Year twice, is the 9th Winningest Girls Coach in Texas, and is ranked 12th nationally in career wins. Under her leadership, a girls' gym was built in 1978, and a new athletic complex complete with a girls' weight room was built in 1995.

"My philosophy of competition simply is an individual giving maximum effort consistently—no matter what disappointments are encountered along the way," said Porter. "Students who are competitive and unafraid to fail can virtually be guaranteed success in athletics, school, and the eventual game of life."

•Charlotte Scroggs, Denton Ryan High School.

Scroggs has been a sponsor of UIL math and science events for over 20 years. Under her tutelage, her students have qualified for the UIL Academic State Meet in one or more event 17 of the last 20 years. During the last three years, she has built a computer science team that has qualified for either region or state each year.

"Though winning is important, I feel the actual results of the competitions are secondary to the development of each student's personal integrity, citizenship, self-esteem, and friendships," said Scroggs.

•Jo Scurlock-Dillard, San Antonio Reagan High School.

Scurlock-Dillard, the second of this year's co-winners, has sponsored UIL events for 25 years, 19 of which have been in the music area. Under her direction, 98 percent of her choirs have received Sweepstakes awards since 1991. She is the Department Chair for Fine Arts, judges various UIL Solo & Ensemble contests, and is actively involved as a clinician throughout the state. Approximately 94 percent of her students have received Superior ratings at Solo & Ensemble competition since 1981.

"I believe music education is rewarding because it helps to enhance student achievement," said Scurlock-Dillard. "A student learns self-discipline, responsibility and time management skills when preparing to compete."

•Christopher Smith, Sadler S&S High School.

Smith has sponsored UIL current issues & events for 10 years. Under his instruction, his current events teams have advanced to state the past 8 years, and have won 7 consecutive state titles. His students have also won five individual state championships.

"We do what we do because it's worth doing," said Smith. "The rest just happens."

•Jim Vaszauskas, Brock High School.

Vaszauskas has coached UIL athletics for 19 years and UIL academics for 7. As an athletic coach, his basketball team has made the playoffs for 11 consecutive years, going to state three times. He has also had state qualifiers in cross-country and girls golf. Academically, he has had district champions in all UIL journalism events, and has coached 12 regional qualifiers in the last two years. Vaszauskas also founded a UIL scholarship that awards $1000 annually to an academic student.

"Competitive programs are the best instructional opportunities for us to teach our students to become contributing adults, and competition will make us better," said Vaszauskas. "When the last ball is thrown, shot or hit, if we have taught our students the ability to compete, we have served them well."

Major Stockholder in Prep Record Book

Dave Clyde, who pitched for Houston Westchester in the early 1970's was a prep phenomenon. He was once listed in 14 separate categories in the National High School Sports Record Book and his name still permeates the pitching categories. Clyde is listed among the pitching leaders in 10 categories and heads the national listing in five departments. His 842 career strikeouts are 113 ahead of No. 2 Allen Rath of Riverside Highland, IA, and he is the only hurler in prep history to register more than 300 strikeouts in a season. Clyde's true dominance is shown in the number of times he is repeated. His 327 and 251 strikeout totals from 1973 and 1972, respectively, rank first and eighth in the seasonal strikeout category. No less than 43 times did Clyde strike out 10 or more batters in the 61 games he started. Only four times over the last two years of his career did he allow five or more hits.

Baseball Mentor

Coach Bobby Moegle who has coached the Lubbock Monterey baseball program to 1,115 victories, ranks No. 2 on the list of most wins by a high school baseball coach. The 66-year-old Texas mentor has an overall record of 1,115 wins and 266 losses, all at Monterey High School. During that span, he has led 14 teams to the UIL state baseball tournament. His teams won UIL titles in 1972, 74, 81, 96 and were runners-up in 1961, 71, 78, 97, 98.
